OKLAHOMA POINTS,

VOL. XXI.

WHICH THE GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO DECIDE.

ESTABLISHMENT OF NATIONAL BANKS

And the Issuance of Licenses For the Sale of Liquor-Bell Telephone Patent-Other Federal Matters.

WASHINGTON, April 16.-[Special. |-The attorney-general today received the first of a number of questions growing out of the open-ing of Oklahoma, which he will be called upon to decide. The question came from the treasury department, and relates to the establishment of banks in that territory. A number of applications have been received by Secretary Windom for charters to open national banks in Oklahoma. The national banking law requires that the president and the directors of every national bank shall be residents of the state or territory in which that bank is ocated for at least one year before the charter issues. This would apparently prevent the issue of charters to banks in Oklahoma. But Oklahoma is neither a state nor a territory. The question is, therefore, a very nice one. The attorney-general is inclined to construe the law as liberally as possible, in order to establish firmly the new communities which may go into Oklahoma, and he may, therefore, decide that charters may be issued to national banks there, although there is no law on the statute books which contemplates such a thing.

THE SALE OF LIQUOR,
The treasury department has also another troublesome question about the new country, and which will, in the course of time, be sent to ternal revenue has received an application for license to sell liquor in Oklahoma. The law says that no liquor shall be sold upon any government reservation or in Indian territory except at military posts and under military sup-

Now, when Oklahoma is opened for settle ment under the proclamation recently issued by President Harrison, it will no longer be a government reservation. Can licenses to sell liquor there be granted? This is another nice question for the attorney general to decide. The two cases mentioned show how incomplete are the United States statutes where Oklahoma is As the bill opening Oklahoma was passed at the tail end of congress, and was a mutual compromise in conference commit tee between the two houses, it is, perhaps nat ural that incomplete laws should add to the chaotic condition of that section of the country to which so many people are rushing in the hope of securing homes. The next congress will have no small job on hand when it undertakes, as it must, to straighten out matters in

THE BELL TELEPHONE. Solicitor-General Jenks, who, as it was stated some time ago, will be retained as counsel for the government to take charge of the cases against the Bell Telephone company when his successor as solicitor-general is chosen, is already preparing to go on with those cases The first step to be taken is to secure all the evidence possible to sustain the claim which the government makes. There have been a number of decisions in minor mat ters in the United States courts, and including the United States supreme court, which were adverse to the government, but there has never been a decision on any point involving the real merits in the case. The government claims, Mr. Jenks today said, that the Bell patent was obtained either through fraud or by a mistake, and that Bell was not the first inventor of the speaking tele phone. Government agents in Europe have collected a large amount of evidence bearing on the case, and a great deal more evidence has to be taken in this country before the United States commission. That work will be commenced in a short time. Evidence will be taken wherever it can be found. Mr. Jenks expressed, how ever, that the mass of it will be secured at Harrisburg, Philadelphia, and Boston, Mass.

HE MADE THE ANGELS WEEP. Another member of the last house, wh failed to land himself in the fifty-first con gress, was today given a place by Mr. Harrison. He is William P. Hepburn, of Iowa, and he was appointed solicitor of the treasury, a very nice job. Hepburn's congressional career was distinguished by the untiring man-ner in which he waived the bloody shirt, and called for the emptying of the treasury vaults in payment of pensions to everybody who so much as looked with approval upon a blue uniform during the late war. Mr. Hepburn used to charge up and down the aisle of the house, and froth at the mouth while he waived the bloody banner. He often made the angels

ED. ANGIER MAY BECOME A JUDGE There are strong indications that both Lewis E. Parsons, Jr., and James Jackson will be knocked out for the district attorneyship for the southern district of Alabama. General Goodlee, who came here about three weeks ago championing the cause of Colonel Jackson, has left for home somewhat disgusted, and vacated the field to the enemy, Judge George H. Craig, of Selma, who successfully contested the seat in the forty-eighth congress. Ex-Congressman Shelby has been offered the place, but has not as yet said he would accept it. There are many friends of Craig running him for the district judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Settles, of North Carolina. There is going to be a lively contest for this place. The name of Mr. E. A. Angier is also being mentioned in connection with the

THE BIRMINGHAM POSTOFFICE. THE BIRMINGHAM POSTOFFICE.

It was stated today, upon good authority, that Houston will be appointed postmaster at Birmingham. A few days ago the postmaster-general asked several Alabamians to name some new man for the place, with the object of steering clear of the quarrel now going on for the place. The gentlemen who were asked to name a new man or dark horse declined to do so, saying they would not be willing to recommend any one other than Houston. From present appearances it would seem that Colent appearances if would seem that Col-is Bloodgood and Alexauder are holding full hands and will capture everything in sight which they may go for.

APPOINTMENTS YESTERDAY.

the eighth Iowa district.

The commissions of three postmasters, nominated by Mr. Cleveland and confirmed by the senate, were today signed by President Harrison and forwarded to them. One was that of Leroy L. Brinkley, Edenton, N. C.

Ten additional clerks, making twenty in all. will tomorrow be detailed from the different divisions in the postoffice department to brief applications and other papers relating to appointments. If this force is found to be insufficient to speedily bring the work up to date, further details will be made.

A list of thirty-three postmasters, appointed by the president, is made public today. All are for northern and western cities. The principal one is James A. Sexton, of Chicago, vice Nowberry, resigned. Six of the appointments are in place of men nominated by Mr. Cleveland, whose nominations were not acted upon by the senate. A half dozen others are to fill vacancies caused by removal.

Assistant medical referee, Philip H. Barton, of the pension office, has been removed. Mr. Barton was an appointee of the last administration. Theodore Smith, of New York, special examiner in the pension office, who resigned last summer, has been reinstated. Robert W. Ross, of Illinois, recorder of the general land office, and Virgil M. Hobbs, of Indiana, chief of the contest division in the general land office, have resigned.

EMANCIPATION DAY.

The Colored People of Washington Celebrate

It in Grand Style. Washington, April 16.—The colored people of the district celebrated emancipation day in orthodox fashion today by a parade in the afternoon and public meetings in the evening. The parade was an unusually creditable affair. Notwithstanding the rainsterm which began early in the morning and kept up until after the disbanding of the procession, the military organizations marched in fine form and the civilian bodies showed up well. The latter were well dressed and orderly, kept a good line and altogether showed a decided improvement over the exhibitions of the colored ment over the exhibitions of the colored marchers in prexious emancipation parades. There were no rivalries this time as to who should manage the affair, and consequently no quarreling, and good humor prevailed in spite of the rain. The chief marshal was a clergyman, Rev. Robert Johnson. For the last two or three years colored politicians have been in control, and wrangling always resulted.

REVIEWED BY THE PRESIDENT. The paraders, as they passed the white house, were reviewed by the president and all the members of his cabinet except Secretaries Blaine and Tracy. It took the line a little over half an hour to pass, and the reviewing party stood on the front portico of the white ouse in a pelting rain during that time.

There was an unusual display of national clors in the procession, and the president was ept quite busy saluting the flags as they were

In the evening meetings were held at the fourth Baptist church, and at the Metropolitan M. E. church. Addresses were delivered by Hev. Dr. Derrick, of New York city, Fred Douglass and other well-known colored men.

poral Tanner's Request.
WASHINGTON, April 16.-Comm Tanner of the pension bureau, received during the first week in the present month 60,871 letters and other pieces of mail matter per-taining to the business of his office, and last week he received 69,000 pieces. The commissioner desires this fact made public as a gensome desires this fact made public as a general explanation of delay in answering correspondence from Grand Army men and others having a personal interest in pension cases now pending in the office. He bespeaks the indulgence of correspondents until the present burden of work shall baye been disposed of. The commissioner is making every effort in his power to expedite the work of his office and to bring it up to date at the earliest possible day. Short Paragraphs From Washington.

Houk and Alfred Taylor, of Tennessee, asked the president to amend the civil service rules so as to permit the restoration to service of men who were dismissed for political reasons by the last administration without regard to the length of time since they were dismissed.
The president said he would give the matter a very careful consideration.

The Treaty With the Cherokees.
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Governor Robinson, of Massachusetts, has declined to serve as one of the commissioners to negotiate with the Cherokee Indians for the cession of their lands in the Indian territory to the United States. The departure of the commission to the Cherokee country will be delayed by this declination, but steps have been taken to fill the vacancy at once so as to cause as little delay as possible. The place has been tendered by telegraph to another gentleman and his reply is expected temorrow. expected tomorrow.

National Academy of Science.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—About thirty of the ninety-six members of the national acadethe ninety-six members of the national academy of sciences were in attendance at the opening session of the annual meeting of the academy today. The sessions will probably run through tomorrow and Thursday, and the run through tomorrow and Intusasy, and the programme embraces a series of fourteen papers by prominent scientists. Shortly after noon Professor Marsh, president of the academy, called the public meeting to order and without any preliminaries, whatever, immediately proceeded to call for the reading of the papers announced for the meeting.

NEARLY READY FOR THE TEST. The Cruiser Charleston Will Make a Trial Trip Next Friday.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—It is stated un-officially that the cruiser Charleston will probably start on her trial trip on Friday next." She has finished coaling, and on yesterday took on board a large quantity of rope, hawsers and other equipments from Mare island for the trip. On Saturday, while lying at her dock, fires were started in her furnaces, and the machinery, under a full head of steam, was found to work smoothly and in perfect order. Her anchors are in place, but her steel masts which were made in Pittsburg will not be put in until after the trial trig Her armament has not yet arrived. Captain there are a manner has not yet arrived. Captain Charles Goodall, of this city, has been selected by President Irwin Scott, of the Union Iron works to command the Charleston on her trial trip. He has inspected the vessel. The engines were set going and worked satisfactorily.

OFF FOR OKLAHOMA. THE OLD SOLDIERS' COLONY ON THE MARCH.

SEVEN HUNDRED WAGONS IN LINE. A Colony of Women Will Enter the Rappy Land-They Say They Will Be Able to Defend Themselves From Harm.

> WICHITA, Kas., April 16 .- An old soldiers' colony left here this morning for Oklahoma. Seven hundred covered wagons were in line, all showing inscriptions in keeping with the casion and the journey. Over 2,000 boomers were in the wagons. They will endeavor to locate together in the country around Lisbon, where the land office for the western district of the territory will be located.

LAND SHARKS AT WORK.

Offering Oklahoma Lots at Two Dollars

Each. Kansas City, Mo., April 16.—The gatherng rush of people bound for Oklahoma was very apparent here last night. Trains from all points were crowded with would-be settlers. and the Santa Fe road is rushing forward all its available rolling stock for use on its Indian territory branch. Land sharks are on hand. One firm, with flaming banners, is selling town lots in Oklakoma City, Texas, a spot on the map of the panhandle of Texas, touching the Western tip of Oklahoma. These so-called lots are sold for $2 apiece, with an additional charge of $1 for recording the deed. Next door another crowd ing the deed. Next door another crowd is trying to dispose of lots in the promising city of New Oklahoma, said to be twenty miles south of the other and pretending to be upon the proposed line of the railway. The "looters" of these two institutions stand at their doors and roundly denounce each other as frauds and imposters. Both manage to ply a good trade. Meanwhile the most rigid rules of exclusion are being maintained in the territory; yet they are rumors rife that certain favored ones have already been permitted to enter the tract and are been permitted to enter the tract and are hidden near Guthrie and other points of sethidden near Guthrie and other points of set-tlement. This will bear close investigation.

Captain Cooper, who, with Captain Couch, has inherited the leadership vacated by the late original "Boomer" Payne, arrived in the city last night to arrange for the prompt movement of his trains. He says that he has forty cars at Empsria, where his branch of the self-styled. Payne Oklahoma colony is rallying. He is inclined to be secret about his plans, but says emphatically he does not propose to be left.

WITHDRAWING THE TROOPS. Boomers Crossing the Cherokee Outlet to the Border of Oklahoma.

Sr. Louis, April 16 .- The latest news from the border is to the effect that troops are being withdrawn from the neighborhood of Cald-well and ether points on the Kansas line, and the boomers are rapidly getting ready to cross the Cherokee outlet to the northern boundary. of Oklahoma proper. Then they will move along the old cattle trails and, will reach the order the latter part of this week and be ready to rush across the line on the 22d. High water on the Cherokee strip and Oklaoma will cause much delay and trouble to the boomers. Many of those who have been in hiding in the valleys of the Cimarron and North Canadian have been washed out and their stocks and tents swept away. . . THE DAMAGES REPAIRED. The reported damage to the Topeka and Santa Fe bridge across the Canadian river at Purcell has been repaired and there will be no delay to trains from the south. Parties with temporary buildings for land offices at Guthrie and Lisbon, left Arkansas City today and will erect them as speedily as possible. A stage line has been put on between Guthrie and Lisbon. Several deputy United States marshals have started for Oklahoma and other officers will follow at once.

PRETTY PIONEERS, THESE.

Self-Reliant Women Who Will Descend Upon Oklahoma

WICHITA, Kan., April 16 .- In the great rush owards the promised land of Oklahoma, strange as it may appear, there are many women who hope to locate upon desirable sites and obtain homes. Among the covered wagons that passed through here today was one in which were three women and several children. Their appearance bore evidences of a long, bitter struggle with the wild and woolly west. The oldest and apparently moving spirit of the party said that her name was Mrs. Dennison, and that she came to western Kansas years ago from near Syracuse, N. Y. Poor crops and sickness soon dwindled down her little means, and at last, the husband dying, she, her daughter and sister-in-law left their Kansas claim and started for Oklahoma. Tney and already driven two hundred miles, and had already criven two hundred lines, and felt themselves equal to the remaining journey, which would end when a claim they had been told about in the Cameron valley had been reached. Here they intended to erect houses, make their living by selling chickens, and either hold or dispose of their claim.

A PRETTY WIDOW.

Of quite a different character is Mrs. Polly Young, a pretty, dashing widow, who reached here last night from Quincy, Ill. Her husband was a union soldier, and she has speculated quite extensively in the past in western lands. Her intention is to locate a claim and upon it form a town site. Her friends, she said, insisted upon her taking an escort, but she de-clared her ability to take care of herself in any

Perhaps the most noted of the women boomers is Nellie Bruce, the daughter of an old boomer. She caught the Oklahoma fever from her father and left a Kansas district school, in her father and left a Kansas district school, in which she was teaching, to join him. He had built a neat little frame building in Crutch county, near Oklahoma City, to receive her; but the day before her arrival the Indian scouts discovered and burned it. The old man met her with tears in his eyes and related his misfortune. With true western grit the girl immediately set to work to build a dugout, well concealed in the woods. Bruce was driven out of Oklahoma, but she was not found and remained for months in her home. found and remained for months in her home, surrounded by her chickens. Pretty and dashar, she was the idol of the boomers, and woe to the man who treated her with disrespect.

A COLONY OF SCHOOL-MARMS. Before Lieutenant Carson's last raid Nellie ed, and, returning to Kansas, gathered around her quite a party of schoolmates-mostly school-marms. She intends to lead them into Oklaoma. She has a claim near her own picked out for each, and they will thus form quite a ommunity. The party will go by rail to Okshoma City on the 22d, and, she knowing the buntry well, can quickly and easily locate nem upon their respective claims. Their supplies will be received later by wagons, which will start in time to reach them when needed.

Another interesting woman. Nanitta Daisy, rrived here too last night. Her home is in ouisville, Ky., where she was employed upon ally papers as special correspondent. She casan applicant for state librarian in Kencky, but was beaten by only one vote. Chagrined at this defeat, she tried Washington, and became well known there for her wit and eccentricity. Securing the reccommendation of the Kentucky delegation and several senators, she was given charge of a government school in the territory. There she became interested in Oklahoma and wrote descriptive letters of the country for the eastern press. On one of the finest claims in the north Canadian valley waves a flag bearing the following: "This is Nanitta Daisy's claim; look out!"
"Will you risk living there by yourself?" was asked her.
"Will I?" she replied, and she laid on the table before her a brace of beautiful ivoryhandled revolvers and two gold medals, received at shooting tournaments. "Will I? Well I should say so."

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

Probability That Six Million Acres Adjoining Oklahoma Will Soon Be Open.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The decision of ecretary Noble that people may cross the Cherokee strip on their way to Oklahoma is perhapt partly due to a consciousness that they would very likely do this with or without per mission. This route is the direct one from mission. This route is the direct one from Kansas, and, while the troops might keep the Oklahoma tract itself clear of intruders until the appointed day for settlement, they could hardly expect to keep clear also the much larger Cherokee strip. Besides, the very act of opening to settlement of a tract in the heart of the Indian territory implied that there should be means of reaching it. Still another justification of the secretary's conclusion may be found in the fact that the government claims the title to the Cherokee outlet, or at least disputes its ownership with the Cherokee nation The latter insists that the government should NOT ALLOW WHITE MEN TO GO ON IT, but it has itself leased the lands for years to white men for grazing purposes. But, once in the Cherokee strip, will the ettlers ever get out? The interior depart-settlers ever get out? The interior department somewhat vaguely indicates that this concession of a right to cross this land to Oklahoma must be very strictly construed; that it does not imply any right to loiter, and that it must end very soon "after the first migration to the Oklahoma country is over." But there will be great difficulty, when the door is once opened, in getting it shat again. It will be an illustration of the camel's head in the tent. If there is to be any such surplus of claimants for the Oklahoma lands as is now predicted, the disappointed will naturally drift back to the Cherokee strip and try to stay there. The troops will be sent to put them out, then more will dodge in, and there may be a busy summer of such work.

NOT ALLOW WHITE MEN TO GO ON IT,

with dodge in, and there may be a busy summer of such work.

The immediate result of all this must be to hurry forward the negotiations authorized at the close of the last congress for the purchase of all rights of the Cherokees in, this tract of all rights of the Cherckees in this tract with a view of opening it to settlement. It was most fortunate that the Oklahoma legislation was accompanied by this provision, and that the president promptly appointed commissioners under it. They will soon be on their way to Tahlequah, and under the combined pressure of the obvious need of selling this land and the very liberal price which the government is willing to pay for it, there can be hardly a doubt that a

BARGAIN WILL SOON BE STRUCK.

If it is, an additional area of 6.022000 acres.

If it is, an additional area of 6,022,000 acres will be ready for occupation. The Oklahoma tract contains only 1,887,100 acres, so that the relative importance of the Cherokee strip is

The Cherokee strip was coded by the Cherokee nation to the government in 1866 for the occupation of friendly Indians. Only a small part of it was ever so used or was paid for, and the manner in which proceedings were held under the agreement for cession makes its prosent status a matter of great doubt. Secretary Noble implies that it really belongs to the Indians, and the late act of congress may lead to such an inference. The Cherokees have for several years leased it to the Cherokee-Strip Live Stock association; but a proposed renewal of the lease last year was forbidden by the interior department, no doubt with a view to the present plan of buying it and opening it to settlement. The Cherokees will not be the losers by such an arrangement. The sum which the government is willing to pay for the tract will produce more income than has been received hitherto from the cattle mon, or than they offored for a renewal of their lease. The Cherokees have land enough besides for their own uses, and it is quite evident that this would be a peaceful, permanent and profitable disposition of a tract which has caused them much trouble in the past and would otherwise cause still more in the future. The lease of this strip was a leading element in the last Cherokee election, which nearly brought the two parties to civil war, while with the Oklahoma open the Cherokee strip would, in spite of all efforts, become a thorough fare between part of it was ever so used or was paid for, and homa open the Cherokee strip would, in spite of all efforts, become a thoroughfare between it and Kansas. Probably, therefore, the nego-tiations for its purchase will be successful.

The Veterans' Cotton. NEW YORK, April 16.—Three bales of cotton were sold to the highest bidders on the cotton exchange today for the benefit of the national confederate soldier's home at Austin, Tex. The cotton came from Galveston. A bale of 488 pounds was sold to John Collins & Son for 12 cents per pound, the same firm purchasing the Atlanta bale for 133 cents, and Munneon & Co. took the Savannah cotton at 141 cents

The Old Doctors Win. The Old Doctors Win.
CHARLESTON, S. C., April 16:—[Special.]—
The long and bitter contest between the medical school and the medical college for the control of the city hospital was settled by the city council tonight. The council, by a vote of 12 to 9, decided to renew the contract with the medical college until March, 1892. The fight has been a long and bitter one, and has brought out many personalities from the faculty of the college, composed of the oldest and most prominent physicians in the city, and the Summer school, a new enterprise started by a Summer school, a new enterprise started by a half dozen young doctors, who have ambitious views and who had attempted to oust the col-lege faculty.

Resisting the Reduction.

Resisting the Reduction.

Punxsutawkey, Pa., April 16.—A general strike is imminent in the Jefferson county coal regions. The authorities at Adrian mines have offered their employes 35 cents instead of 40 cents, the present rate. The miners have declined the reduction, and if an attempt is made to force it upon them, as is extremely probable, all of the other companies will make similar reductions, and the result will be a general strike, involving several thousands of miners. It is said that large coal buyers are holding back their orders in anticipation of lower prices for coal when the reduced scale for mining goes into effect.

Explosion of Powder Works. Explosion of Powder Works.

Troy, N. Y., April 16.—A portion of the works of the Schaghticoke Powder company was blown up last night by an explosion of 200 pounds of material in the mixing vat. Charles Rose was killed and Marvin Bennoway received injuries which will probably be fatal. The damage to the property is about $3,500, and the works which were turning out 5,000 pounds of rifle powder daily will be shut down for about six weeks until the buildings and for about six weeks until the buildings and machinery are replaced.

WAR ON THE POLES.

THE AX APPLIED TO THE TALL WIRE SUPPORTS.

ENFORCING THE LAW IN NEW YORK.

Officers, With Gangs of Men, Chop Down the Telegraph and Telephone Poles-The

New York, April 16 .- Shortly after ten o'clock this morning Mayor Grant's secretary received a certified copy of Judge Wal-lace's order dissolving the injunction procured by the Western Union Telegraph company against the mayor and board of electrical control. The order was sent shortly afterwards to the department of public works. One of the inspectors was on hand with a corps of axmen, expecting the war signal. Before eleven o'clock the peles at Fourteenth street and Union Square were being cut down. Hundreds of people gathered in no time to witness the novel sight of men cutting down telegraph poles. Two gangs, one on each side of the street, attacked the poles. Another company of strong-armed wood-choppers made an attack on the poles on Sixth avenue. They commenced on both sides of the avenue at Twenty-third street, and intend leveling all poles on the avenue as far as Fifty-eighth street. The mayor sent to the commissioner of public works today a letter netifying him of the poles and wires that were to come down. They were as follows:

POLES TO COME DOWN. On Sixth avenue, from Twenty-third street to Fifty-eight street, except Western Union wires on the elevated road structure. On Broadway, from Fourteenth street to Fortyfifth street, except the fire department line. On Twenty-third street, from Sixth avenue to Broadway. On Twenty-fifth street, from Sixth avenue to Broadway, and on Fortysecond street, from Sixth avenue to Madison

One of the telegraph poles on the Broadway side of Union square, which was being taken down by a gang of men, fell suddenly, and a passing Broadway street car narrowly escaped getting crushed. No one was injured, how-ever. Ten poles were cut down every half hour. The gang on the west side of Broadway have cleared Tiffany block.

Commissioners Gibbons, Hess, and Moss were on the spot, and say that they are glad that the poles are at last coming down. The fall of every pole was hailed with cheers by the crowd.

Commissioner Gibbons sent for more police so as to be ready for any emergency.

. THE CONTRAST WITH DARKNESS. Mayor Grant's raid on the overhead electric ight and other wires in the subway district. oduced a very noticeable effect up town touight. In Madison square and Union square. where the electric lights before transferred night into day, there was nothing tonight but the pale flicker of gas. On these squares, which are the centers these squares, which are the centers of gaiety at night, the effect is especially noticeable. The leading crosstown streets, such as Twenty-third, Fourteenth and Forty-second, which were lit by electric lights exclusively, before the war began, are as dark as a pocket to-night. Not even a gas lamp relieves the mantle of darkness. Fifth avenue presented the strangest appearance of all. Its gloom without the electric lights brightness, was like that of a country road through which pedestrians passed as if with bated breath. Broadway was fairly well lit up with gas, but it was pale. The only relief to the absolute gloom of Madison and Union squares, were the lights in the surrounding streets. Not a flicker lit the darkness within the parks themselves. It was a strange scene and the talk of the town. It was an object of interest, which drew many spectators to the spot to see the transformation.

BANK ROBBERS CAUGHT. Iwo Men Make an Unsuccessful Attempt

Robbing a Minneapolis Bank. MINNEAPOLIS, April 16 .- A bold and nearly nccessful attempt was made at noon today to ob the State bank. Two men went into the bank when only two employes were present. One covered the employes with a revolver, while the other vaulted over the railing and thrust about $8,000 on the teller's table into a valise. At this moment, a depositor entered and this forced the uncovering of the assistant cashier, who rushed to the safe to get his revolver. The robber threw the valise to his accomplice, who dashed into the president's accomplice, who dashed into the president's room by mistake. He then jumped through a window and fled. Meanwhile the other man had also escaped. There was a wild rush, in which three or four policemen joined, and finally the two robbers were caught and lodged in jail. The names of the men are given as James Henry and Fred Douglass.

ciated Press, who wrote the thrilling account of the loss of the war ships at Apia, is a young man of about twenty-eight years, who has been one of the regular office force attached to the Pacific coast agency of the Associated Press in San Francisco, entering the service two years ago. He was known to possess great coolness and fine descriptive powers, when he was selected to go to Samoa to watch the political situation there. He left here on the February steamer, arriving at Apia March 3d. He carried letters to the naval and consular officers there, and was under invitation from Captain Shoonmaker to remain on board the "Vandalia" the day befor the disaster occurred, but his duties on shoreprevented him from accepting.

Dunning is a native of Delaware. Before coming to the Pacific, he did his first newspaper work on the Wilmington, Del., papers. His weight since going to Samoa has been reduced from 135 to 113 pounds. His account of the disaster was nearly 20,000 words, and was sent entire to the eastern papers of the associated press. It was the longest dispatch over filed on the Pacific coast for transmission east on one topic.

In speaking of his report the Chronicle says: "We print this account, in extense as it is, because of the great popular interest in the details of the calamity, and because it is a superbly realistic picture of the scenes of heroism and suffering without a parellel in recent years. One secret of the power of this description lies in the fact that the writer remained on the beach in a driving storm for thirty-six hours, und nearly every ineident sketched was seen with own eyes. The story of the fruitless attempts of the war vessels to escape is full of pathetic features, and we think no American read without emotion the trilling episode of the crews of the Trenton and Vandalia cheering each other, and the band of the Trenton striking up the "Star Spangled Banner" as the ship swept on toward certain death.

The Alta says: "The descriptive passages in his letter stir the blood like a tr

The Post says: Under the circumstances, with the flying and driving sand cutting like a knife, his report is a monument to the skill and perservance of an American journalist.

BRUNSWICK.

THE BUSINESS AND PROSPECTS OF THE CITY.

The Best Harbor On the Atlantic Coast-The Cotton Receipts-The Naval Stores-General Busines

BRUNSWICK, Ga., April 16 .- [Special.]-No city on the south Atlantic coast has made such rapid strides forward within the last few years as Brunswick. Its growth is indeed unparalleled in the history of Georgia. It is due, first, to its almost unequalled natural advantages, and secondly, to the fact that its citizens realize them and have taken occaion to advertise to the world what they have. By this means the eye of northern capital-sts was attracted; they visited it, invested their money, and today Brunswick as a prosperous busy and enterprising city is equalled by few and excelled by none.

Northern investors are flocking here in droves, and few of them fail to purchase. In fact, nine-tenths of the northern people who come here predict for Brunswick a great future, and every one here is confident their predictions will be realized.

A prominent northern capitalist yesterday said that Brunswick was by far the best advertised port in the south, and he believed within a few years there would be many large investments made here by northern men, as all who visit the place can but see that it is certain to grow rapidly, and that property will undoubtedly increase greatly in value. Already the

BRUNSWICK COMPANY, composed of northern capitalists, having as its president Mr. G. F. O'Shaughnessy, of New York, have accomplished wonders in developing the city. They have built a magnificent winter resort hotel, "the Oglethorpe," at a cost of $160,000; a handsome summer resort hotel in St. Simons island; a street railway line, four miles in length in the city and one mile on St. Simons, and have purchased the majority of unimproved property in and around the city, which they have laid off in lots and portions of which have been converted into beautiful parks. Brunswick company is not in any sense a speculative corporation. Their object is to build up the city and in so doing they of course expect to realize on their investments. They will not sell lots to speculators but require a contract from each pur-chaser that he will construct a building upon it. By this means they keep down real estate speculative booms. But the city is building up very rapidly. Today there are over one hundred new buildings in ceurse of erection, and many lots have been sold to parties who

But as to the RAPID GROWTH OF BRUNSWICK. In the first place, its population has increased ,000 in the last four years and new numbers

10,0000. In '84 there was not a brick building in the city. To-day the entire business portion is composed of handsome brick stores of the nost modern architecture. It's cotton receipts four years ago were 4.500 bales. Up to to-day they are 135,000 for this season, and before the first of September the receipts will reach 150,000 bales, next year at east 250,000 are expected.

In 1884 there were no banks here. To-day here are two national banks, and one private bank. Oglethorpe National bank has a capital of $150,000 and a surplus of $21,000, while the First National bank has a capital of $110,-000 and a surplus of $40,000. :

It's naval store business while very small a few years ago, has increased to 150,000 barrels of rosin and 42,000 barrels of spirits of turpentine; or, in other words, the naval store ousiness of Brunswick this year will amount o $1,100,000.

While its lumber business a few years ago was small, Brunswick is today the greatest lumber port on the south Atlantic coast. There are one hundred million feet of lumber shipped from here annually, or, in money value, the lumber shipments amount to some thing over $1,200,000 annually.

But with such a harbor it would be impos sible to keep any city down.

THE HARBOR is unquestionably the finest on the south Atlantic coast. It is very deep, large enough to old the navies of the world, and so landlocked that in the severest storms shipping is perfectly safe. In fact, Brunswick has never had a cyclone, and it is predicted that she never will.

Again there is no lack of deep water front. There is ample room for miles of wharfaffe and the business of the city is increasing so rapidly that wharves are going up on every hand. At the compress alone, which is, by the way, the largest hydraulic press ever built, there is already 1,300 front feet of wharf and the company is now engaged in building an addition of 700 feet, and erecting a new compress. All he cotton that comes here for export is recompressed, as this press will reduce any in-land compressed bale to one half its size, or, in other words a 500 pound bale after going through this press is held at eleven inches or a density of forty-five pounds the cubic foot. The company owning the compress and wharves-the Brunswick Storage and Export company- are also putting up a new warehouse capable of storing 25,000 bales and another compress THE ENTERPRISE OF BRUNSWICK. There is a new canning factory here with a capacity of 1,500 bushels of oysters per day, a manufactory of turpentine farm tools, a saw mill, three planing mills, two bucket works, an ice factory and a 50,000 cotton factory in course of construction, besides gas and water works. electric lights, street railways and, in fact, everything found in the great cities of the resent day, all of which has been accomplished within the past few years,

Brunswick is A BEAUTIFUL CITY. In fact, in point of beauty it has few equals. The streets and parks are shaded with enormous live oaks, while there are hundreds of miles of beautiful drives through groves of magnolias, oaks and pines around the city. Then there is a shell road running around the cutire water Steamship "CITY OF ROME" from New York WEDNESDAY, May 1, May 29, June 26, July 24. Far out to the east is St. Simon island, with its lighthouse and magnificent summer resort hotel, where the people of almost the entire south flock in summer to enjoy the cool sea breezes and suif bathing. Then to the southeast stands Jekyl island with its palatial clubhouse, where a number of the representatives of Ward McAllister's four hundred spend their winters hunting and fishing. And below is Cumberland with its summer resort hotel and the winter home of Andrew Carnegie, the Pennsylvania iron king. Brunswick and the surrounding islands are indeed becoming the most POPULAR RESORTS in the entire south. The new Oglethorpe hotel in Brunswick has been well filled all winter and everyone who has been here pro-nounces it the best conducted and most attractive hotel in the south. Indeed, next to the Pence de Leon, Oglethorpe is the finest winter resort hotel in the south, and, as to the cuisine, it is not surpassed by any hotel in this country. it is not surpassed by any note in this country.

"Mr. Cleveland," he said," was the most unconfortable man I have ever seen for the first week after he came over to New York. He was almost as helpless as a child. He didn't seem to know what to do when he didn't seem to know what to do when he reached the office in the evenings. He was out of practice, as it were. But he was not very long in learning the ropes, and now he probably is the hardest worker in the firm."

Mr. Bangs is now with Mr. O'Shaughenessy and a large party of New Yorkers, enjoying the hunting and fishing of Jekyl. The Jekyl Island club house is a model of comfort and elegance, and its members are said to represent wealth aggregating $800,000,000. The island is supplied with game of all kinds, including pheasant, quail, deer and wild turkey THE PEOPLE OF BRUNSWICK are indeed a live and progressive set. They have realized their great natural advantages and lose no opportunity in improving them. They advertise their city far and wide and every one who visits here leaves a walking advertisement for the place. All times are vertisement for the place. All times are lively here. In the winter Brunswick keeps well filled with northern visitors, and as soon as they leave the southern people come in search of a cool summer resort. This they find on St. Simons island, where the Brunswick on St. Simons island, where the Brunswick company have another great hotel, which is also conducted by the popular manager of the Oglethorpe. The hotel accommodates about two hundred and fifty guests and has all the modern conveniences of the Oglethorpe. It is located right on the beach and better surf bathing cannot be found anywhere. There is a ferry line running over from the city and hundreds of the Brunswick people go over nearly every afternoon in summer to enjoy the surf. The hotel will be opened on the first of May.

In 1884 there was not a brief building in the aircraft across the said. brick building in the city; now we have hundreds. In 1884 our cotton receipts were only 4,000 bales; now we have 140,090, and we should get 250,000 next year. We cannot increase our lumber business for it is already enormous, but our naval store business. ness will increase greatly for the reason that houses which have formerly done business in Savannah are now locating here, as this is un-doubtedly a much better point. Goods can be shipped from the west here and back to Albany cheaper than the regular rate from the west to Albany, therefore we can and are already supplying the country within a hundred miles around with both western and eastern goods. Savannah is becoming alarmed at our rapid growth and she has cause to be for we gained 50,000 bales of cotton this season and Savannah lost that number. have given centracts to build within six Thus you see we are getting much of Savan-nah's business. Yes, Brunswick is certain to be a great place and within a few years we will rival any port on the south Atlantic Everyone here talks just this way. Everyone has unbounded confidence in the future of Brunswick and the people are working together to make it what it is destined to be one of the greatest ports in the south.

Body Covered With Scales Like Spots of Mortar-An Awful Spectacle-Doctors Useless-Case Hopeless-Entirely Cured by the Cuticura Remedies in Five Weeks.

Five Weeks.

I am going totell you of the extraordinary change your CUTICURA REMEDIES performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out ail over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which eame off in layers, accompanied with tching. I would scratch every night until I was aw, then the next night the scales, 'I being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I oonsuit all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of rocovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly cruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I appeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the CUTICURA REMEDIFS, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eezema and psoriasis. I recommended the CUTICURA REMEDIFS to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scally cruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the CUTICURA REMEDIFS have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a babys.

THE PEOPLE AT WORK. SOME INCIDENTS OF AN INDUS-

TRIOUS AGE. Fine Stock in South Georgia-Meat Raising in Lee County-A Word For Wire-Grass

Georgia-Shipping Cattle to South Caro-Mr. Sam P. Salter, of Dougherty county, has demonstrated that raising fine stock in Georgia pays. Mr. T. P. Embry, who knows all about Mitchell county as well as his boxes. Mitchell county, as well as his home state, Ken-tucky, says that stock can be raised cheaper there than in the state of bluegrass. Mr. Salter depends mutuly on grasses, and is satisfied that the Texas bluegrass will pay handsomely here. Of course grasses, like everything else, require some pains and labor when being set or seeded. The Camilla Clarion says:

We have plenty of land—indeed, a surplus. Devote a part of it to grass. Our low, wet grounds, when drained and lined, are admirably adapted to be mude. Don't be atraid of it. If it takes half of this county its will prove a biessing, Make up a stock company and buy a jack. The writer knows Filmt river from Montezuma to Chattahocehee. This is his country, and he speaks what he knows when he says that mule raising will pay. He is fond of music, and likes it whether made on a negro's banjo or by a grand orchestra. The music he wants to hear all up and down Film river is the bray of a jack. He writes this not as a matter of taste, but as a matter of patriotism.

Clay county is on a boom. Several years ago the indebtedness of the county amounted to several thousand dollars. Today she is free of debt, has $2,000 in the treasury and has donated $300 to the military company.

The fact that people do not raise their own meat in this section raises the presumption that it cannot be done. Yet that presumption says the Albany News, is easily rebutted by the past history of southwest Georgia and the results obtained by individual farmers who have devoted sufficient attention to that business. It is a business, and demonds as in-telligent attention to insure success as any other. A News and Advertiser scribe saw two five countrycured hams at Messrs. E. B. & S. B. Lewis's that turned the beams at over seventy pounds. Inquiry discovered the fact that they were the products of Mr. H. Laramore's farm in Lee county. Mr. Laramore killed ten hogs last season that weighed 3,700 pounds dressed. Before the war southwest Georgia raised more meat than the people knew what to do with. The ruling price for bacon was two and a half cents per pound, with little or no demand for it at that, for every plantation was well

It costs the people of Milton county $5,000 a year to move their guano and groceries from the railroad to their homes. Ten times $5,000 is $50,000 length of the past ten years Milton county lost $50,000 because she had no railroad. Add to this $0,000 that will be lost in the next ten years, if no railroad ! built, and it makes $100,060. There is one remedy. That is to build a railroad. The Democrat, in anticipation of a railroad, says:

When the Marletta and Alpharette railroad is

When the Marietta and Alpharetta fairfold is completed, we look for a boom in our minerals. We have iron that looks like it would assay 80 per cent pure iron. We have manganese, and there is not a stream, large nor small, in the county but what has gold on it. Placer mining has been carried on to some extent, but no one has ever searched for the veins from whence the gold came. There are persons living in this county who have made ten dollars per day washing the sauds shoveled from shallow places in the Chattahoochee river.

Uncle P. Doster is one of the most substantial farmers of Wilcox county. He has never bought corn and meat, from necessity, and his corn crib is now nearly full of corn. His children and grand-children are settled around him, doing well. Unlike most fathers, instead of holding all his property to be handled by an administrator and lawyers, he has divided it out while living, and so has the pleasure of seeing his children enjoy it in

Says the Montezuma Record:

We have often wondered why some of our mill men do not put in a shingle machine and manufacture shingles. There is always a demand for them here and the market is never over stocked. A dealer in Macon asked the writer only a few days ago if he could buy a half dozen car loads of good shingles in the neighborhood of Montezuma. He was surprised when we told him that our people had to buy shingles away from home. It will pay to put a shingle mill near here.

The citizens of Camilla have taken hold of the matter of drainage with the energy which characterizes Camilla when she goes to work. A fund has been raised by voluntary subscription for draining the Bennett swamp up to within a short distance of the turnpike. The contract has been let and a force of ten hands have begun at the Slough and are cutting a large ditch. Frank Croswell has charge of the work and is going right ahead.

The Rockdale, Ga., Banner tells of Mr. Wash Denmard, who is a successful farmer:
He sticks close to the scripture injunction "owe no man anything." It is stated he never bought a bushel of corn or a pound of meat on a credit in his life. He runs no account anywhere, but even pays the cash for his guano. He raises plenty of meat corn, wheat and other things to live off of, and has his cetting a surplus crop. his cotton a surplus crop.

Mrs. Mary Gibbs, who lives some sixteen miles from Abbeville is what we would call a selfsustaining woman. She raises poultry, pork, but-ter, jotatoes, etc., and carries them to market in person, and buys such necessities in turn as the family needs. Last year she sold between fifty and one hundred dollars' worth of the above named things and supplied the family besides.

On Monday three car toads of cattle, about one hundred and fifty head, were shipped from Sandersylle to some point near Charleston, South Carolina. They were purchased by Mr. J. D. Welch for his stock farm, located we learn on an island near the city. It was quite a motley lo for beef, some for milkers. The Sandersville Herald remarks:

We think it augers better stock for Washington county and increased attention to the stock. One good farmer, we learn, sold several cows, saying his wife would attend to her milkers, and it was just as easy to attend to good as inferior cows, and he would now get some good cows for her. While we are importing so much beef from Cheago and Omaha, we will export some of our surplus to other states and then even up expenses.

Vista Patriot's office the other day a package of sugar of his own make. It was a brown, grainy sugar, and had more sweetness to the square inch and was far superior to the inported "C" sugar. Farmers could be independent of the sugar trust and many other trusts if they would. There was no doubt more syrup made in Marion county last year than was necessary for home consumption, and the supplies ought to be converted into sugar. Of course it is not expected that farmers could refine their sugars like the granulated, but by a little study and experience in the art of sngar making they can turn out an article that would answer all practical purposes around the farm home. There is every prospect now that Albany is to have a new union passenger depot, a necessity owing to the constantly increasing travel to and from this point and the dangers to human life surrounding the present little structure in the network f, tracks on every side.

The Statesboro Eagle has a good word for the cotton planters and large farmers went to

While wealth has diminished in some of those counties all of the wiregrass counties have increased in wealth and population. Many years are not to be proposed in the lands. The early settlers all wanted to settle on a river or large creek, not only for the fish and game afforded, but because they thought the river lands were better. They looked out the interior lands as barren wastes, good only for stock grazing and wild varmints. But as population increased necessity forced the people into the backwoods or piac lands, and then the people began to find out that the real wiregrass lands were valuable. The population of Bulloch has trebled time the war, and her wealth has increased in the same proportion. The climate of the county is unexcelled, and the health of the people will compare favorably with any section of America. The farmer can raise nearly every article used by his family. The soil seems to be adapted to raising sea island coite, and every year hundreds of bales of this valuable article are raised and sold by our farmers at remunerative prices. This one staple has added thousands of dollars to the wealth of the county. The people as a rule are elever and law abiding: the county is filled with churches and school houses, and new residences dot nearly every farm, all of which testifies to the progress and success of our people. Railroad facilities, enabling the farmers to market their surplus products at the cheapest rates, are now in progress, and every indication is that our people will advance in every way in the future, even more than they have in the past CORDELE, Ga., April 16 .- [Special.] - Cordele enjoyed a genuine sensation to-day. Early this morning it became gen-erally known that a man had been arrested who was suspected as being the head of one of the most notorious gangs of burglars of these times. The man was arrested while about to board the Georgia Southern train, about seven o'clock last night, by City Marshal T. A. Holliday. West Point, Ga., April 16.—[Special.]—On Friday afternoon last Mrs. Atkins, who resides near Whitesburg, was fishing on the river about two hundred yards above the bridge. Her little four-year-old son accompanied her, who, while romping near the water's edge, lost his balance and fell into the river. The child's father was plowing in a field about five hundred yards' distant. The distracted mother hurried toward him with the news of the mishap. Before he could reach the spot, the little fellow had been borne by the current one hundred yards down stream. SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ! ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 17, 1889.

The "Confederate Home" Association! The subscribers to the Confederate Home fund met last night and organized!

A board of directors, the strength and devotion of which will not be questioned, was selected. This board will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, elect officers, appoint committees, map out the work and go right into it!

To meet their plans for a perfect "Home," fully $50,000 will be needed! The list is within about $14,000 of that amount. Shall we not put it to $40,000 by the close of the week! This subscription that began so bravely, and was given so spontaneously, should not be allowed to lag. It is its chief glory that it has come freely and without asking. Let the small amount still needed be raised without any formal canvassing or beseeching! Send in your subscriptions today!

Twenty Thousand New Colored Pensioners.

Corporal James Tanner, the new commissioner of pensions, will distinguish himself, If there is any virtue in extreme rulings.

His latest decision is rather startling, and it will place 20,000 new colored pensioners on the rolls. It seems that Corporal Tanner looked into a case which had been rejected by the last administration. The petition was from a negro mother. She and her son had been slaves owned by the same master. The son escaped, enlisted in the federal army and was killed. After the war the mother claimed a pension because her son had been killed in the war, and the democratic commissioner decided that the mother was not dependent upon her son because both were slaves. This reasoning did not strike Corporal Tanner. He argued that the earnings of the son went into the pock ets of the master who supported the mother, and thus in this indirect way his mother had an interest in his earnings. So the rerejected case was admitted to the pension

The new commissioner is the most radical of republicans, and in making his decision he was no doubt influenced by his prejudices. But Corporal Tanner has forgotten one thing-his 20,000 new pensioners will draw just that much money southward. The sum expended in the payment of their pensions will be an unjust burden upon the country at large, but in the long run it will be utilized in building up the south. Perhaps, when the commissioner thinks it over, he will not be so well satisfied with his Stay Away from Oklahoma.

If any of our readers are thinking of go ing to Oklahoma, we trust this paper will reach them in time to induce them to unpack and stay at home.

There are now twenty claimants on the borders of Oklahoma for every homestead that is to be opened on the 22d. This enormous horde will rush into the territory in such a scramble as has never been seen. They will come in on trains, on foot, in boats, on rafts, on horseback, and in wagons. They will represent, as a rule, the very wildest type of western life, and an ordinary citizen would have no more chance with them, than their crops will have with the western grasshoppers three months

There are two axioms that might be studied right now with profit. First, Georgia is the best place in the world to etay at. Second, Oklahoma is the worst place in the world to go to. We trust that we shall receive very few requests in the next week to change the address of any of our subscribers from Georgia to Oklahoma.

Hail and Welcome.

The Indianapolis Journal takes acception to some remarks made in these columns about the south and New England. Our contemporary thinks that it discovers in the remarks referred to a spirit of covert hostility to New England and a disposition to push her to the wall that do not consist with the professions of broad patriotism made by THE CONSTITUTION.

Whereupon the Journal goes on to read us a little lecture, and it is such a neat little lecture, and so decided a protest against sectionalism that we are glad to have been the means of drawing it out. The remarks to which our contemporary takes acception were drawn out by some very ill-flavored and malicious criticisms on the south and its people by a northern republican organ. Such criticisms in respectable newspapers irritate and offend, and it is only irritation, and not sectionalism, that the Indianapolis Journal discovers.

Sectionalism! Heaven forbid that any thing appearing in THE CONSTITUTION should have that deadly flavor. No; what we propose is that the good people of New England-the epoch makers and the puritans-shall come to the south with their money and their energy, to be seasoned here by the sweet influences of sun and soil, and to renew here the youth and vigor that have wrought such wonderful results in a sterile come!

The much discussed negro problem does not seem to be such a problem after all to the republican administration.

. The negro has simply been jam.ned into a back seat, and there he will be kept, in so far as President Harrison and his cabinet have anything to do with the matter. Thus the negro problem has been solved very anddenly, and apparently very determinedly, by the administration.

Secretaries Windom, of the treasury, and Wanamaker, of the postoffice, have gone so far as to announce outright, in so many words, that no negro need apply to their respective departments for office. They explain their position by the statement that | they think it best for the negro to remain | the United States and China.

out of office for awhile in order that the re publican party may have a fair showing at the southern white vote, which it can never have as long as the negro obstructs the way by being placed in official position over the whites. This is in exact keeping with President Harrison's southern policy, and it appears that he has the sympathy whole cabinet, all of whom are evidently directing their course according to this policy, for as yet no position of any importance has been awarded to a negro in any of the departments.

It cannot be doubted that the president has drawn the color line, and it is now clear that unless the administration is forced to change its policy no negro will be put in any other than inferior positions under the present republican reign. The negroes are beginning to recognize this, and it is therefore probable that the convention [proposed to be held in Washington by way of an indignant protest, will prove a very interesting event-to the democrats.

The negroes will vigorously protest against any such solution of the negro problem as the president and his advisors are determined to bring about.

Scientific Road Building. The movement in Georgia and other southern states to secure a better system of public roads promises gratifying results.

It is proposed by Vanderbilt university, at Nashville, to offer in its engineering department a course of free instruction in scientific road building to one principal or deputy highway official from each county in Ten-The course of instruction will nessee. consist of lectures and work on the economical location of highways, the repairs of old roads, methods of drainage, culverts, bridges, etc. The road officials, after their course of study will go home to apply their scientific knowledge to their county high-

This will be a good thing for Tennessee, and doubtless other states will be stimulated by her example to a greater degree of well directed energy in this vitally important matter. " Here in Georgia we are about to have a road congress, and it is to be hoped that out of its deliberations will be evolved some practical plan of improving our country roads that can be put in operation in every county. Sooner or later Georgia will get there.

EDITOR WHITELAW REID says he never applied for the British mission. This settles the reports about trouble between Harrison and Blaine.

THE star spangled banner-tune and flagshows up well in a storm.

Solid as it is, the south is getting there.

Would the new owners of the Whitehall street car line mind building a dollar and a half shed at the West End terminus? There are citizens of West End who would gladly aid in this movement.

Those who talk about the solid white south, are inclined to forget that there is another solid south.

WHEN Ohio, Indiana and Illinois settle their disputes with the negroes, it will be time enough to discuss the race problem in the

A fireman in the Atlanta department is chosen for his ability and efficiency, and holds his position on the same grounds. CAPTAIN HOWELL'S REMARKS. Captain Howell said on taking the chair that this meeting was called for an organization of the subscribers to the grandest movement ever inaugurated in Georgia, and he was glad to say the movement, so far, was without conflict. About $35,000 had been raised, but the heaviest work was yet to come. He believed that all the money that might be needed would be raised. If there is anything that will move the hearts of the people it is that we want to take care of the old soldier and not let them beg or beg for them. [Applause.]

"There has been no grander hero than the confederate soldier. When the cause was lost and he returned, what a sight met him! Not able to work! too proud to beg! too honest to steal! When we look at the record of the last twenty-five years, it moves my heart with compassion, and if there is anything that will brighten their declining years, I want us to accomplish it. The state of Georgia will appropriate sufficient money to take care of the oldiers, and I believe the people of the state will build a home for them.'

As Captain Howell concluded, Mr. Grady entered the room and was greeted with applause and calls. He advanced to the front

M?. GRADY'S TALK. "Mr. President and Gentlemen," said Mr. Grady, "we have met to establish the best work that ever engaged the hearts of Georgians. This is, as I understand it, a business meeting. We should provide, in the very first place, for the immediate calling in of the subscriptions. I know of more than one instance where the most flattering prospects have been ruined because of delay of this sort. I know one instance in which the call was a sacred one, and $10,000 was iost by three months' delay. It is a safe business proposition that a delay of three months means a loss of twenty or thirty per cent. Let the money be collected with the understanding, and with the promise expressed, that it shall yield profits to the Veterans' Home association, and not to any citizen, or to Atlanta, or to anything but the association. Let's discuss the plan and scope type of soldiers' homes. General experience has shown that a home for men alone, a place where men live in idleness, with nothing to do but to live from one day until the next, results invariably in a loss of self-respect and loss of interest in life. "The saddest sight on earth is that of an old oldier in one of those homes-nothing to live for, cut off from all employment and all enjoyment, listless and aimless. The number of icides in homes like that, so statistics show. is noticably large. Now, the subscription is flexible in our hands. It has been given freely and without condition, and it is a sacred obligation resting upon us to build wisely and build well. Let's make it a home that will be model for all others of its kind.

"Provide, in the first place, legitimate and easy employment for those that are able to work. The idea is not to make the home entirely, or even in great part, dependent on this labor for its sustenance. One of the most successful homes of this sort on earth is in Germany. Every old soldier there has a flower bed-nothing more. Give every man in the home a patch of ground to use as he pleases, so that visitors may find them tilling the soil -the most ancient and the most honorable of all employments.

"In the second ploce, don't make it a home for the veterans only. Don't separate the old soldier from his wife. Those women suffered all the agonies of dread and suspense while all the agonies of dread and suspense while their husbands were fighting, and when their husbands came home crippled and disabled they partook of his poverty and shared all his suffering. It is wrong to separate them now. Applause low, as to a site for the home. "Now, as to a site for the home.

"Proxies have been sent to me from all parts of Georgia authorizing me to vote for Atlanta.
So general has been this expression that I am confident that we run counter to ne considerable local opposition, and certainly to no general opposition, in naming Atlanta as the site for the home.

"Within three or four miles of Atlanta 300 or 400 acres of suitable land can be purchased at reasonable figures, if a site isn't donated. For $10,000 we can build a central home for se that have no families and for those that are absolutely helpless. For $10,000 or $15,000 we can build a number of cottages, each located on a little farm of one or two acres. If we do this the balance of the $50,000 is certain to come, and with the home once established not one man in either house would seriously oppose the giving of an annual appropriatiou to sustain the home. We should discuss here, and tonight, plans for the home, decide whether or not it shall be for veterans only, or be open to the wives and dependent children of veterans, and make suggestions as to the sort of lands and the sort of houses. A fracther sort of lands and the sort of houses. After the groundwork for the plan is made, elect the board of directors, leaving the details to them, and in thirty days from today the carpenters will be at work, and Georgia will be moving in the discharge of her most sacred obligation."

DR. JONES SPEAKS.

DR. JONES SPEAKS.

At the conclusion of Mr. Grady's talk Dr. J.
William Jones, "the historian of the confederacy," was called upon.

"I am always glad," said Dr. Jones, "of an opportunity to say a word in a cause like this.
These old soldiers are not paupers, and what we give is not charity. We are discharging a debt—nothing more, and we would be recreant to every sense of hone," and justice if we failed to do it. I never set an old soldier with an empty sleeve or halting gait without instinctively lifting my hat to him, and it shall be a privilege, so long as I have a crust of bread left, to divide that crust with an old confederate.

"On the 13th of December, '62, a boy came to "Judge A. A. Manning subscribes $10," said Mr. Grady, "but Major Kiser and the committee are back. I yield my claim again."

Before Major Kiser reported a resolution was passed that the committee of five constitute a part of the board of the directors.

The list as amended is: From Atlanta—H. W. Grady, M. C. Kiser, S. M. Inman, W. L. Calhoun, W. A. Wright, J. W. English, E. P. Howell, R. D. Spalding, George Hillyer, T. L. Langston, Amos Fox, W. D. I want to get back before it's all over. I carried him to Surgeon Grimes and told him about it, and the surgeon dropped all other business to amputate those fingers. As soon as it was done, and his hand bound, the little fellow shouldered his musket and ran back to the front. That's the sort of people we owe this debt to. I rejoice in this new south, and am glad to see our country regainsouth, and am glad to see our country regaining slowly but surely her old-time prosperity. I recognize as a factor in this development the influx of northern capital. I like capital, but the prosperity of the south today is due in greatest measure, and by far the greatest measure, to the men that wore the gray. Look around you, and you will find at the heads of the railroads and at the head of nearly all our great institutions men who fought under Lee and the confederacy.

To the list there were added a honorary vice-presidents Governor Gordon, Senator Brown and Senator Colquitt.
Judge W. L. Calhoun, president of the Fulton County Veterans' association, was called upon and made an eloquent talk.
"I have for years," said he, "as president of the association, dealt with the people of Atlanta and of Fulton county in such matters as this, and never have they failed to respond to a call from the old soldier. I am proud to know now that this spirit is not confined to Atlanta, nor to Fulton county, and I am, more than ever before, proud of the fact that had been reared in affluence, that had graduated from a Virginia college and was, when the war commenced, a student in the leading Virginia law school, fitted in every way for success and promise in his chosen profession. He had given up everything when Virginia called for soldiers. I stopped and spoke to him, and I shall never forget how proudly and hopefully and bravely he talked. Those are the men that have made the new south.

THE FIGHTING COUNTY OF BARTOW.

Just as Dr. Jones concluded his talk Major Kirke and General Lewis entered the room and were heartlly cheered.

"Mr. H. H. Smith has just subscribed $100," said Mr. Grady. "I'll promise now not to get else wants to hear me talk they'd better subscribe. Mr. Foute, of Bartow, is here tonight, and he has taken a hearty interest in this and he has taken a hearty interest in thi

Mr. H. I. Kimball was called upon and made a few happy remarks.

"I was not in the war," said he, "and you all know what side I would have been on had work."
"We must hear from him," said Chairman Howell. "The fighting county of Bartow has sent up Fite, Fitten and Foute. [Laughter.] No braver man fou't in the war than the representative from Bartow, and we must hear all know what side I would have been on had I beed on either. But if I had been a southerner born and a confederate soldier my heart could not have thrilied in more thorough sympathy twith this movement, land I am glad that as a Georgian, I am privileged to help found this home."

"Mr. C. W. Motes gives $20," said Mr. Grady. "Mrs. C. W. Motes gives $20, Miss Eva Motes gives $5, and Miss Mary Motes gives $5. That entitles me to four speeches. Captain Bob Clayton promises to do all the necessary surveying free of charge. That's a guarantee that the work will be well done, and it really entitles me to another speech. "I can't say, as Dr. Jones said, that I'm glad I was called on to speak, though nobody in Georgia feels a heartier interest in this work than I do, I am glad in my heart that the work has been started and so nearly completed. One thousand acres should be purchased near Atlanta. It is not improbable, as Mr. Grady suggested, that a site will be donated. Georgians have big hearts and in a cause like this will give more than dollars and cents. I believe I am perfectly safe in saying that the state will maintain the home. I pledge myself to do all m my power in the house. [Applause.] Only one man voted against the soldiers' pension bill in the last session and he has been sorry of it ever since. I think he will vote to sustain the home." "I can't say, as Dr. Jones said, that I'm glad

ANOTHER SUBSCRIPTION "Put down Mr. H. I. Kimbali for $25," said Mr. Grady. "That gives me the right to speak, I believe, but I shan't insist. It seems that we are all of one mind about the plan: for the home. Why not proceed immediately to some sort of organization?"

"That's it," said Major Kiser. "I move that the chairman appoint a committee of five and that this committee select twenty-five di-'And as to the selection of directors," said Mr. Sam Inman, "I have a resolution.

"I believe that every subscription has been given with this view: the establishment of a home that shall be different from the ordinary type of soldiers' homes. General experience has shown that a home for men alone, a place their body, elect a site for permanent build degin the crection of buildings if in ignment they deem best; and said board is he powered to act in any and all matters perta-the confederate home for Georgia and it ests and welfare, and the subscribers to the ers to the fund ereby authorize and ratify such action."

THE COMMITTEE OF FIVE.

Chairman Howelt appointed as the committee of five Messrs. M. C. Kiser, W. L. Caihoun, Dr. Spaiding, Judge W. T. Newman and Don M. Bain, and the committee retired to make up the list of directors.

I like this idea of a farm attached to the home. I've been a farmer all my life anyhow. The farm will work all right if the legislature makes the appropriation large enough, [Laughter.] I think I would have succeeded at it if the state had been liberal enough. [Laughter.] I'm with Mr. Grady on the side of the ladies. The wives of the soldiers should be allowed to go with them to the home, and all the children that are directly dependent upon the old soldiers' labor. Establish the home, and then if the state can't, or won't, sustain it. Atlanta will. I suppose we'd have to get around the city charter samehow or other, but that isn't hard to do now-a-days." [Laughter.]

COLONEL ELLIS TALKS. Colonel Ellis arose in response to the calls for him and made a ringing speech in support of the movement.

"The generous subscriptions," said he, "reflect credit upon the state. The duty rests still upon Georgia to sustain the home. There can be nothing in the constitution against this, and if there is it should be done away with. THE SCORE SHOWS.

HOW THE GUARD STOOD AT THE JACKSONVILLE DRILL.

Captain Lyman Hall Shows the Score to One of the Judges and Explains the Company's Actions-There Will Be No Contest, However-The Two

The members of the Gate City Guard are till protesting vigorouslylngainst the decision of the judges in the late Jacksonville drill, and, from all accounts, the protests seem to be well grounded.

But instead of being disheartened, the entire company is, to a man, more enthused than ever before, and their efforts will be redoubled, so that when they next meet their late more fortunate competifors they will put up such a drill as will be beyond all dispute.

The company does not intend to formally contest the decision of the judges, but think that it is due to them that they should be placed before the people of Atlanta in their just position. While they are themselves thoroughly satisfied that they were entitled to the first place, they feel that their reputation is at stake, and that their friends should know just how they stand. They want it distinctly understood that they do not make any apologies, nor do they seek to excuse themselves by making an ungrounded protest.

Last night the company held a regular meet-

THE MATTER WAS FULLY DISCUSSED.
Though the company had the proof of victory in their hands in the shape of the official score-card, they were powerless to take any action in the matter, as Captain Hall had promised Lieutenant Morton, who furnished him the score, that the decision would not be contested.

contested.

But the sight of that card almost compensated the boys for the loss of the prize which they so gallantly won.

Last night after the meeting Captain Hall Last night after the meeting Captain Hall was seen; and although he has heretofore repeatedly refused to talk on the subject, finally consented to give his views of the much discussed decision in the awarding of the prizes at the Jacksonville drill.

CAPTAIN HALL TALKS.

When asked about the mysterious score-card mentioned in yesterday's Constitution, he said:

"Well, you see, no official score has been "Well, you see, no official score has been published and for that reason no one can be held responsible for any mistakes which may have been made by the judges, but I have in my possession the card from which the decision was made up, and that card, as it was originally marked, gave the State City Guard first place by a good lead."

"How did the card come into your possession?"

"Two of the judges, Lieutenants Cabeeniss and Morton, wore my personal friends, and the morning after the drill Lieutenant Morton called on me and I asked him for the errors of my company stating that I would make no protest. I stated also that I would like to give my company the information sought. He then gave me the card, which I intend to then gave me the card, which I intend to keep, as it is an excellent one."

"Do you think the judges acted fairly toward you?"

"Yes; I believe the judges acted in good faith and were totally unbiased in their decision. It was reported to us that one of them had been drilling the Fusiliers before the contest. Captain Schachte denied this when I mentioned the rumor to him and said that mentioned the rumor to him, and said that Lieutenant Cabeeniss had only been in his armory a few nights previous to assist him in selecting a squad for the individual drill. "In what way, then, do you think the judges mistreated your company?"

"In order to fully understand the matter it will be necessary to read the score," and the certain took from his research."

Under this privilege I might have given some extra movement, but executed 26 and 27 immediately afterward. Lieutenant Morton said I failed to execute the movement in its proper-place, but got it in another place. The fact is, had the movement been executed at any other time we would have received zero then, but there is no other zero on the card. All who saw the drill, and who were connected to the remembered on who were competent to judge, remembered, on being asked about it, the movement to have being asked about it, the movement to have been executed in the proper place, and besides, it would have been almost impossible for me to have gotten it in the wrong place. I was told by Lieutenant Morton that had we been given credit for these movements we would have been far ahead of the leading companies. "There must have been some doubt among the judges as to wbether we were wrong or not, as on the score card of one of the judges the two movements were scored 29 and 28, 30 being the highest mark. Now, how could one judge give us such a high mark and the others udge give us such a high mark and the others eclare we had not made the movement at all That's where the rub comes in, and the atti-That's where the rub comes in, and the attude of my company toward the judges is simply this. We think they were mistaken, as all of us remember the movements. When I told Lieutenant Morton this he replied that they were equally certain of their decision."

"The boys feel pretty bad over the affair, don't they?"

"Yes. It is but natural that the members of my company should feel indignant when they remember that the two movements were executed for which they were marked zero. In furnishing the above score card for publication Captain Hall stated that he had only agreed to its publication in order that the friends of the company might be made acquain-ted with the true record made by them at the drill, and that it is not intended as a protest against the decision.

The score speaks for itself and shows that the Guard not only was entitled to first place, but put up a remarkably good drill, when it is remembered that 90 is the highest mark obtainable. The Guard's average was 82, the Cadets 77 3-10, and the Pusileers 76 7-10. THE VETERANS' HOME.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The stock market today was excessively dull, and fluctuations in the general list were made within the narrowest limits, reflecting only humor of moment on the leading element in whose hands all business done was concentrated. The holidays for most part are respon-sible for the growing duliness. Traders of bearish turn of mind fed out small lines of stocks in early alings but the market afterward took on firm tone and while L indon had few buying orders there was no disposition to trade upon that fact, and outside of the few shares which were subject to special influences and made wide fluctuations, there was no feature of any kind to market. There were some exaggerated rumors in regard to the trouble between the Union and Northern Pacific over Oregon business, and it was said that the Union Pacific had notified the Navigation company that it would abandon the lease if a small line of 150 miles was not turned over to the bears upon this hammered stock, though upon denial of the rumor a portion of the loss was recovered. The Short line was after-ward attacked. On the other hand the Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western, both common and Pa-cific, rose sharply on report of large increase in earnings, and that the next dividend upon the Pacific would be at an increased rate. Philadelphia gas also showed marked strength and rose about six per cent. The market closed very dull and steady at the insignificant and irregular changes for the day. The advances were: Philadelphia gas 6, Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Common 3½, and Pacific 5-80. But the losses include Navigation 2 and Snort Line 11/2. The sales aggregated 126 to

NEW OBLEANS, April 16-[Special.]-Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular, say: Some dispo-ation to realize profits by longs again today, there-fore we close about the same as yesterday, although Liverpool about 1-64 higher. Port receipts were somewhat larger than last year. New Orleans re-ceived 4,200 bales and two-thirds of which came from Mempids and peoply all the other inverse. from Memphis and nearly all the other int town cotton. The important spot markets with few exceptions are firm. Stocks at ports 118,000 bales smaller than last year. Spots here quiet; sales 1,300; middlings 10 7-16. GLENNY & VIOLETT.

NEW YORK, April 16 .- (Special.)-Henry Clews A O.'s cotton dreutar on the market today says:
The market today was rather tame in comparison with yesterday. The trading was considerably lighter, but it was nevertheless fairly active. In Liverpool spots were firm with sales of 10,000 bales at unchanged prices. Futures were steady with buyers and the market in favor of the bulls. Our market was somewhat irregular at the opening, but prices generally showed a gain of 1 point over yesterday's closing. Receipts were liboral and there was some inclination to sell by the local operators, but the demand was steady all day. Liberal buying advanced prices 5 points on the near months, even the butls looked and house for a reaction, but the the buils looked and hoped for a reaction, but the cotton seemed to be wanted on each point or two cointo seemed to be wanted on each point or two decline, and the not result of the day's transactions is a gain of 1 points on the early and 2 points on the late months. Liverpool closed firm at 1-64 higher than last night. The southern markets continue from and are practically unchanged in the quotafrim and see practically unchanged in the quota-tions. The feedpts are less than estimated and only $,200 bales. Owing to the strong demand for cotton throughout this country and Liverpool, with the general scarcity of stocks, it looks as though the market for futures would advance still higher. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 16 .- A good business was transacted in wheat early in the day and after that market ruled more quiet the feeling developed was weak and the advance of yesterday was almost lost. The opening for July was ½@½c lower and with only slight finetnations declined 1/20 more, recoveed 2/20. again cased off and closed %c lower than yesterday. The change in the market from the strength denoted yesterday was surprising to many and was attributed to weak and lower Liverpool advices.

A moderate degree of activity was manifested in corn early in the session after which the pit became more quiet, fluctuations were confined to %c range.

Oats were traded in fairly and the range of prices was %c, closing steady,
An active business was transacted in mess pork.

TWO NEW SHOPS.

SEEKING A HOME IN THE GATE CITY.

The Atlanta Manufacturers' Association Has An Interesting Meeting-Mr. Lewis Cass Duff and Me, John Rommell, of Chicago, Appear Before the Body.

Both are almost assured. The Atlanta Manufacturers' association is now interesting itself in the two enterprises, and today Captain James R. Wylie, secretary, will prepare letters of invitation to gentlemen interested in both associations asking them to

The letters were ordered at the meeting of the Manufacturers' association yesterday. The meeting was attended by Captain E. P. How-ell, president; Captain James R. Wylie, secretary; ex-Governor Bullock, Colonel Dan Speer, Hon. Elias Haiman, Mr. Richard Winship and Hon. M. F. Amorous.

Representatives of both ventures were pres-Immediately after President Howell called the meeting to order, Captain Wylie said: "I want to introduce to this body Mr. Lewis Cass Duff, who has been engaged with the Kirk soap house, of Chicago, for years. Mr. Duff-is thinking of establishing a soap factory in Atlanta, and wants to consult with us. I know that he understands his work."

Mr. Duff, who is known throughout the south as one of the most affable and popular commercial tourists who ever opened a sample commercial tourists who ever opened a sample case, arose, saying:

"I want to bring some New England capital down here and mix it with a small per cent of Atlanta money and start a soap factory. I am thoroughly conversant with the work and will want to organize a joint stock company of about $50,000, $25,000 or $30,000 of which I will get in the west and east."

"I presume," said President Howell, "that you know the business thoroughly enough to know whether or not this is a good point for it?"

"I'do most assuredly," answered Mr. Duff,
"and I know that a good factory will pay well here. You have had several, but the only trouble with them was a want of capital. I happen to know that they never failed to sell up to their capacity when they made good goods. But they never had enough on hand to compete—say with Kirk & Co. The matter of freights on goods from Chicago to points south would be a nice profit to a successful Atlanta factory."

"How are the Atlanta soap factories doing?" asked Colonel Speer.
"They are selling all they can make," answered Mr. Duff.
"Now the material," continued Mr. Duff, "can be had just as cheap in Atlanta as Chicago, and I know that the venture will pay. I can raise $25,000 or $30,000 of the stock east, and want the rest of $40,000 to $50,000. I do this because I desire to show the eastern subscribers that Atlantians have a confidence and scribers that Atlantians have a confidence and scribers that Atlantians have a confidence and are interested. I bring this matter here before you to see what you think so that I may go east with your indorsement if you think it a good scheme."

The association directed Secretary Wylie to confer with Mr. Duff and issue such papers as he thought advisable. The gentlemen present were pleased with Mr. Duff and his ideas.

"I now desire to present to this body," said Colonel Speer, "Mr. John Romelle, of Philadelphia, who wishes to hear and be heard."

Mr. Romelle, though quite young, convinced the association that he was thoroughly posted in his work.

winced the association that he was thoroughly posted in his work.

"I am thinking," he said "of establishing a cotton machine shop in the south, but of course want to know whether or not it will pay and am here to ask you all. I will make cotton lapers and openers and it strikes me that Atlanta ought to be a good distributing point. The gentleman who will be associated with me is a practical man and can put in some money. We don't expect to start with a large shop but to build up gradually and progress in business. Now I have been with the Breisburg Manufactory of cotton mill machinery for years, and know that we sell throughout the south at a profit, notwithstanding the long haul and heavy freights. When that company suspended not long ago a party went to Philadelphia from Augusta and tried to get them removed to that city."

"The freight on your goods are heavy," said

"The freight on your goods are heavy," said Governor Bullock, "and if that company would come here they could save it. If mills continue to build in the south as they have within the past five years, it would pay to bring it here."

"Could you offer any inducement?" asked Mr. Romelle.
"I think we could promise them the ground," answered the president.
"At what price?" asked the gentleman.
"As a donation. We might give it to them."
The proposition evidently pleased the Philadelphia gentleman, and he remarked:
"Then I shall put myself in communication with the company at once, with your permission."

The secretary was instructed to give Mr. Romelle a copy of the proceedings, showing what could be done.

A NEW BANKING COMPANY. The Atlanta Exchange and Banking Company Organized. Atlanta has a new bank. The company was organized yesterday morng, with a capital stock of $100,000, under the name of the Atlanta Exchange and Banking

The members of the company met at No. 28 Peachtree and proceeded to elect officers. Mr. mill machinery manufactory are among the many new industries which are seeking an early location in Atlanta.

James D. Collins was elected president, Hon. Frank P. Rice, vice-president, and Mr. R. J. Lowry, Hon. Frank P. Rice Mr. J. D. Collins was elected president, and Mr. R. J. Lowry, Hon. Frank P. Rice, Mr. J. D. Collins, Mr. W. H. Venable, Dr. H. L. Wilson, Mr. W. S. Bell and Mr. R. L. Hope were chosen directors.

The company is a very strong one, and the capital ample. For the present, business will be conducted through the Lowry Banking company, and the new company will receive no deposits until the bank gets into a building of its own.

The first thing that the company will do is to select a suitable site and erect a handsome building for the accommonation of the bank and the large real estate exchange that is to be connected with it.

The latter is a feature of the business that is new to Atlanta, and with the amount of money and experience that will be put into it, will doubtless prove a most successful business venture. All the gentlemen connected with it are identified with Atlanta financiering and siness institutions in a prominent way. So that the Atlanta Exchange and Banking company starts out under the most favorable auspices possible, with every reason to become a great success in business circles.

To the Editors Constitution; Gentlemen: On last Saturday, April 13th, I an ounced to the people of Atlanta through the columns of your most valuable paper that I would give fifteen per cent of my business on that day to to say that while my anticipation was not realized hat I will have a fine sum to present to the soldiers home. The crowd was immense. The people came from all over the city. The side walks in front of my store was crowded for nearly a block, the rush was so great at and around my store that two policemen had to be detailed to keep the side walk in front of my house clear. You could hear the ladies say them other fellows are doing no business this day. Another lady would say Duffy is doing all the grocery business today, and another one would say I am going to give him all my grocery business from this out, and a great many more pleasant remarks which pleased me very much, Now, Mr. Editors, I don't propose to let you know the amount that 1 am to give the home at the present time, and my reasons for so doing is this: Some of them other fellows will have to imitate me if they knew the amount I realized. They might give a little more so as to be ahead of me whether they done the ousiness or not but I will give them until Saturday and if they don't follow suit I will send you the amount in time to be published next Sunday. It is hored that them other fellows will not be so stubboraned but do some good in this world for I pitty them when they leave here. I now conclude by thanking the people who responded to my call to help the helpless. We, as a people, ought to do more good than we do. There is several charitable institutions in this city who ought to have more help than they get and I for one will help them whenever called on to do so.

Most pills, purgatives and Bitter Waters, which act quickly upon the bowels, irritate and often destroy the mucous coats of the stomach and bowels. Indeed their cathartic action is directly caused by the irritation of the bowels, which they produce. Their action should be soothing and stimulating instead of irritating. A continued use of such remedies produces chronic inflammation of the stomach and bowels. This often ends in dangerous disease. The use of the genuture imported Carlshad Sprudel Salt is highly recommended as an aperient, laxative and dimetic, because its action is due solely to its solvent and stimulating properties. It soothes and allays inflammation, and is therefore much preterable to all strong purgatives and Bitter Waters. fore much preferable to all strong purgatives and Bitter Waters.

AN INTERESTING STORY. MR. JESSE ROBSON, OF WASHINGTON COUNTY, IN ATLANTA.

He Comes to Argue His Own Case Before the Su preme Court-An Interview in Which Mr. Robson Relates the History of the Case-The Robbery of His Safe, and His Conviction for Alleged Embezziement.

Mr. Jesse A. Robson, formerly tax collector of Washington county, is in the city. He came up to argue a case before the su-preme court in which he has a deep personal

In answer to questions Mr. Robson said last "I was tax collector for Washington county for ten years, and during that time collected and turned over to the state about one million "I was a practicing lawyer in that county and represented hundreds of clients and handled a large business. I was a member of the legislasure in 1887.' "What about your troubles?"

"Well, in February, 1887, I had made my settlement as tax collector with the county of Washington, and expected in a day or two afterward to send $2,500 or $3,000 to the state. The money was in my safe and I had counted On Monday morning I went to my office. I found a window open and the afe door ajar. In front of the safe I found a receipt which I. had placed in the safe with the money, torn half in two. All of the money which I had placed in the safe was gone. While I was in tears over my great misfortune, the oldest attorney in Sandersville come into the office. I told him that I had been robbed. After consultation we decided to keep the matter secret until I could either sell my property or borrow the money to make the loss good to the state."

"What followed?"

"I could not borrow the money to make the loss good before the comptroller-general issued an execution against me in May. This let the matter out and I told my bondsmen that I would turn over my property to them to secure them against loss. I gave them a deed to 1,900 acres of land. I also turned over to them my horse and buggy and read cart besides $800 in good notes. They gave me their note for $2,400. My bondsmen paid the money to the state and their note for $2,400 which I held was cancelled.

"What happened after that?" "I thought that ended the matter, but it did not, The September following I was indicted for embezzlement, tried in March 1888, and convicted. A motion for a new trial was made and refused, and my case was brought to the supreme court. It is proper to state that after I was indicted my bondsmen petitioned the judge to stop the prosecution, but he declined to do so.

"Did you ever recover any of the money?"
"Yes; after I had been indicted I received an express package from Atlanta which contained $200. In the package was a letter which a man named Willie Corneal had signed in the presence of an Atlanta butcher named Peacock.
"Corneal stated in the letter that at the time he robbed my safe he did not know that I "I thought that ended the matter, but it did "Corneal stated in the letter that at the time he robbed my safe he did not know that I was a confederate soldier; that his pal did not tell him. Corneal also stated that he had caught the combination of the safe while he was selling stove polish in Sandersville. The safe of Captain W. C. Matthews, of Washington county, was opened in exactly the same way and $3,000 was taken out of it. He received a letter signed by this out of it. He received a letter signed by this same Corneal, in which he said that Captain Matthews and I had contributed largely to his pleasure. He said also that he had caught the combination to Matthews's safe while getting money changed as a railroader. About two months ago the postoffice safe was blown open in Sandersville and robbed of $500."

oren in Sangersville and robbed of $500."
"I am here," continued by Mr. Robson, "to urgue the motion for new trial in my case beore the supreme court, in the absence of my awyers, Judge H. D. D. Twiggs and Roger L. lamble, both of whem are angoed at Gamble, both of whom are engaged at present in attending to important cases at Waynesboro."

Waynesboro."

"When will your case come up?"

"I think it will be heard either tomorrow or on Friday."

Mr. Robson was in Gordon's brigade during the war. He entered the service at the age of sixteen as a private and was promoted for gallantry on the field by General Lee. He lost his left leg in battle and has since used crutches. He has a wife and five children.

HEARTRENDING.

Something Astounding About Crime, if Tue, and Should be Investigated. Is crime on the increase? This question has been agitating the public mind varied, but a preponderance of evidence goes to show that it is increasing. What is the cause of this increase, the same may be said of this. Many causes are assigned, but few will admit that in the progress and enlightenment of this age that we are taking a backward step in anything; but-fleures are against us, and "fleures will not ite." gures are against us, and "figures will not lie. A still graver question for us to consider, is disease increasing? If so, how can we prevent it?

From the most reliable information we conclude that disease is rapidly on the increase. The causes of same are as varied as diseases themselves. Among the most profific in results is our excessive eating and deinking, and our neglect of disease in its earlier stages, leaving it alone until our systems fail to longer stand the extra strain placed upon it. Nothing can be truer than this, "Outraged nature always demands a penalty."

You may be a sufferer from piles or some other disease of the lower bowel that you consider slight and therefore neglect, but the time will come when it will be a grave matter with you, producing effects disastrous to your physical and mental health. Is is not best for you to attend to this early for it will cost you less in suffering and fianci. ally, and it can cure you without the semblance of any, and it can cure you without the semblance of pain and without loss of time. Can you afford to procrastionte and take the risk? I can and will prove to you what I say if you will give me a chance. Call and soe me, or write for further information. I will be giad to aid you.

PREPARATIONS FOR MEMORIAL DAY. President Calhoun Inviting Other Organizations to Participate. Memorial Day will be celebrated with great eremony in Atlanta. Yesterday, Judge W. L. Calhoun, president of the Confederate Veterans' association, was busy sending out invitations to all the different organizations in the city to participate in the ceremonies.

About twenty organizations that are accusomed to taking part in the parades have been invited, and President Calhoun says that if any have been unintentionally left out, they are to consider themselves invited to join the grand procession.

Governor Gordon and staff, the state house officers, mayor and general council, county officials, and judiciary, have been invited to If the day be a fine one there will be an im-

Beecham's Pills cure blinous and nervous fils.

Nervous Dyspepsia. Senator James F. Pierce, of New York, writes: "For the past two years I have suffered very much from an aggravated form of nervous dyspepsia. I have resorted to various remedial agents, deriving but little benefit. A few months since a friend of mine suggested the trial of Allcock's Porous Plasters. Following the suggestion, I have been using the same with the happiest effects. To those similarly afflicted let me suggest the manner of their use. I place one over my stomach, one over the hepatic region and one on my back. The effect was excellent, and from the day I commenced their use I have been slowly but surely improving, and I am quite confi dent that by their continuance, with careful regimen, I shall again be restored to my accustomed health.
